

New Titles

January and February 2018

Featured

Contains a book chapter on public-private partnership research by our very own lecturer, Laura Panades.

IN (at Library)

Call Numbers: KW125.15 PRO 2017

Progressive lab for sustainable development: from vision to action

2017 - Copies: 1 of 1 available

The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, adopted in September 2015, sets out the framework for achieving, by 2030, a sustainable development model where no one is left behind and where planetary boundaries are respected. The 2030 Agenda and its 17 Sustainable Development Goals are universal as they apply to all countries at all levels of development. Following its adoption, the European Union committed itself to a transformative programme, which could potentially turn the current unsustainable growth-at-any-cost economic model into a sustainable one based on the clear supremacy of human rights over the economic privileges of vested interest groups. This will require measures and policies that tackle the current major global challenges such as growing inequalities; the biased trade and investment strategies and growing corporate power; the shrinking funding for development cooperation. The nine contributions collected in the present book provide some ideas on how to tackle some of these challenges. It is time for the EU to move from vision to action.

Generously donated to the TBLS by the author himself, Stewart McPherson.

IN (at Library)

Call Numbers: REF KZ508 MCP 2016

Britain's treasure islands: a journey to the UK Overseas Territories

by McPherson, Stewart - 2016 - Copies: 1 of 1 available

This book accompanies the TV documentary series Britain's Treasure Islands, broadcast on the BBC and across the world. The UK Overseas Territories are Britain's most remote outposts. Scattered across all Seven Seas, the territories cover an area seven times the size of the United Kingdom. They are home to 350,000 British subjects and thousands of unique animals and plants, including many of the greatest wildlife spectacles on Earth... Join explorer and naturalist Stewart McPherson on his intrepid three year journey across all of the United Kingdom's overseas lands. Journeyming on RAF flights, one of the last working Royal Mail ships, freight vessels, ice breakers and charter yachts, Stewart set out to discover the unique wildlife, history and cultures of the territories - the true treasure of these little-known outposts of the United Kingdom. Travel through tropical rainforests, exploding volcanoes, arid deserts, coral reefs and icy polar wastes to discover the thousands of unique species which call the Overseas Territories home, and learn the fascinating roles that each territory played in defining modern British and world history. Complimented by over one thousand spectacular, full-colour images, including dozens of full-page and double-page spreads, a special feature of this book is its 17 specially-commissioned gatefold maps that showcase the geography of each territory. No previous book has ever explored the subject in comparable detail. This visually spectacular work is both a fact-filled reference volume and a riveting account of Stewart's adventurous and exciting journey. The resulting 704 pages will transfix all audiences, and resonate particularly with all those interested in natural history, travel, exotic places.

Call Numbers: REF KN304.6 HUD 2018

The law of financial derivatives

by Hudson, Alastair - 2018 - Copies: 1 of 1 available

Supplies an in-depth explanation of the legal principles underlying over-the counter (OTC) derivatives in the UK. Shows how concepts from many areas of law including contract, tort and trusts relate to the day-to-day practice of financial derivatives markets. Deals with all the key aspects of derivative products creating and structuring derivatives contracts, performance, security and collateral, set-off and netting. Covers the regulation and taxation of derivatives in the UK and the EU. Considers real-world problems faced by practitioners working in-house or in private practice, and suggests solutions. Contains appendices covering standard market documentation for OTC derivatives (eg ISDA Master Agreement). Discusses conflict of laws issues. Considers the impact of the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (MiFID) on derivatives. Includes analysis of recent cases and regulatory changes. Features new coverage of collateralised debt obligations. Examines the legal and regulatory developments.

IN (at Library)

Call Numbers: KW109 BAR 2016, REF KW109 BAR 2016

The substantive law of the EU : the four freedoms

by Barnard, Catherine, - 2016 - Copies: 1 of 3 available

The leading textbook on the four freedoms, popular with students and academics alike. This authoritative text offers a unique balance of comprehensive, detailed coverage in a concise and readable style, providing a critical and thorough analysis of the key principles of the substantive law of the EU. An introductory chapter provides valuable context on the governance of the internal market, its evolution, and the theories behind its key principles. Each of the freedoms is then dealt with in turn, covering goods, persons, services, and capital, before moving on to discuss harmonization, the regulation of the internal market, and its future. Additional useful detail is captured in footnotes, while directed further reading lists provide support for independent study and research. This thorough coverage is fully supported by engaging case studies throughout the book which place the law in context, helping you to understand the complexities of the subject and exploring the practical implications of EU law. Diagrams, flowcharts, and tables offer further detail and illustrate key ideas and processes in an easily accessible format, while chapter overviews, chapter content lists, and a clear structure ensure readers remain on track and can find information quickly.

IN (at Library)

Call Numbers: KN398.6 DIS 2016

Dispute resolution : readings and case studies

2016 - Copies: 2 of 2 available

"Dispute Resolution: Readings and Case Studies, 4th Edition explores the theory and practice of dispute resolution by highlighting examples from Canada, the US, and other jurisdictions. This casebook includes a careful selection of key writings by renowned dispute resolution theorists and practitioners. It surveys a range of dispute resolution processes – conflict analysis, negotiation, mediation, arbitration, online dispute resolution (ODR), hybrid processes, and dispute systems design and evaluation – and introduces the reader to their practical application and to some of the debates over their use. Teaching questions, articles, and case studies are included throughout the text to enhance and to test readers' knowledge and understanding. The fourth edition allows for a contextual approach to dispute resolution by featuring readings that examine how the aforementioned processes are applied in different spheres, including family matters, business disputes, labour and employment, and criminal law."--Publisher's website.

Contains the required readings for the on-going Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Lecture Series.

IN (at Library)

